

By the President of the United States.

pursuance of law, I. JAMES MONROE, President of the United States, do hereby publish and make known that a public sale will be held at Land Office for the tristrict of Salt River, in the state of Missouri, on the third Monday in May next, for the dispo sal of such lands, now situate within the limits of said District sold at the Land Office at St. Louis, Mo, which were relinquished to the United states prior to the 1st. day of Octobe, 1821, under the provisions of the act of Congress, approved on the 2d day of March, 1821, entitled "An act for the relief of the purchasers of public lands prior to the 1st day of July, 1820," which said lands are situate within the following described town

West of the 4th principal maridian. Townships 49, 50. 51. 53, & 54 49, 50, 51, 52, 53 54, & 55 of 52, 53, 54, 55& 56. of " 49. 50. 51. 49, 53, 54, 55, 56, & 57 49, 54, 55, 56, 57 58, 8 59 49, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60 & 61, of " 49, 53 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, & 69 " 7 of 8 of 9 49, 54, 55, 56,

The sale to commence with the lowest number of section, township, and range, and to be continued in regular numerical order. Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, day of January, A. D 1825. JAMES MONROE.

By the President. GEORGE GRAHAM.

Commissioner of the General Land Office. Printers of the laws of the United States in Missouri and Kentucky are authorized to publish the foregoing proclamation once a week until the day of sale. Feb 17, 1825-7-13t

> From the Globe & Emerald. THE FRNCH MINISTRY.

Notwithstanding the vigorous and continued attacks from all quarters, M. de Villele is still firm in his place, nor does his influence appear to be in the slightes manner diminished by this universal de Villele has taken root in the government. This strength of position is not inexplicable-indeed the cause is at present ne secret; for it appears that such is the state of the finances and their administration, that M. de Villele is the only man who has got the clue of the labyrinth, or can guide the fortune of the state with fafety through it. He has so would necessarily find himself in the utmost perplexity and embarrasment; hence the danger which prevents (strong though the wish may be) his being replaced. In a word, M. de Villele having played his cards so well, has rendered himself indispensa ble. He remains minister in spite of the king and Dauphin, who would willingly remove him, but that annals. The ensuing session, so far from shaking M. de Villele's stability, will only render it more sure. The majority of the chamber of deputies is already for him, and he will conciliate more and more their good graces by certain concessions, and particularly by his introduction of a law for indemnifying the emigrants. Besides, the members of lative department in the exercise of its legisla-Villele would, in all probability, be quickly followed by a dissolution of the chamber; they therefore feel that their political existence depends upon that of the minister. This is another of the immense advantages of the position in which this skilful diplomatist has had the art of placing himself. As to Messrs. Corbiere and Peyronnet, they hold by a very slender tenure indeed Hitherto M. de Villebut for a momont, and they fall to rise no moreand this he will do the moment his interest requires it. In sacrificing them, he will have the merit of yielding either to the wishes of the king, the dauphin, or to some influential party of the court, and their unceremonious dismissal may in a moment of crisis, serve to avert the danger from the president himself. M. de Villele will make the same use of them as Alcibiades did of his dog's tail, and the modern Athenians (as the Parisians love to call | magnitude and importance of the question, viewthemselves) will let the president pursue his own |ed in all its aspects. They have not, it is humbplans, and occupy themselves for the moment in wondering at the lopping-off of Messrs. Corbiere and Peyronnet. In the chamber of deputies these two ministers are looked upon with no sort of interest; they are absolute cyphers there, with regard to any kind of influence, and it would not be incorrect to say that their removal would be hailed with satisfaction by the majority of the members, with whom they are any thing but favourites, from their repulsive manners and the mediocrity of their talents as public speakers. The speedy fall of these two excellencies may then be looked upon as not improbable: The most dangerous rock M. de Villele has to fear in his ministerial course is the cham ber of peers, in which his inveterate enemy, Chataubriand, enjoys considerable influence. His projects will there most likely meet with some powerful obstacles. With a view to obviate which a new nomination of peers is already talked of, who, violent remedy, and does not always produce the ministeral branches many who place above all other considerations the dignity of the peerage, and who would necesarily feel indignant at seeing it president of the council in the Rue Rivoli, is in a style of the utmost magnificence. The minister is there environed by a sumptuousness and an eclat more fitting the state of a monarch than a minister; so that when the duchess of Berri had traversed these vast apartments, and had recovered from the ice, "Ma foi! ce n'est pas aussi beau chez moi." This superb hotel has been the town talk here for the last fortnight. There is a grand stair-case

General Assembly.

for Monsieur !e Compte to go up, and another grand grandisse style.

REPORT

Appeals upon the Replevin Laws, &c.

right of the judicial, to check and control the legispreamble and resolutions, repelled the doctrine of the report, asserted the error of the principles ved January 4, 1824. Thus an issue was directrepresentatives should, at the present session, Their opinion is not the effervescence of popular excitement, it is the result of a deliberation, calm and dispassionate in a degree proportioned to the lly conceived, in the consideration of this matter, been either ignorant or regardless of the boundaries which limit the rights and duties of the contending departments; nor have they overlooked rights and duties are respectively connected, and upon a just observance of which, by each, the welfare and repose of society essentially depend. They have not been convinced by reflection, nor lative department in the exercise of its power.

would reinforce the ministeral ranks. But this is a poses of government, that to this, all other lodge- stitution, and the code which controls, retains and control of the legislative power where reason and effect desired. It may serve to detach from the ble. It is a principle not less obviously clear sesses all the attributes of supremacy, and is, in annual and direct responsibility of the representathat in free governments that power is inherent i every state of civil society, the unerring arbiter The concession would imply a surrender by the the will of the people, and that in such gover , and uncontrolled sovereign of the state. It is this debased by promotions whose sole motives were ments the will of the people is the sovereign power, will, and this alone, which imposes in the constitution only, that the governthe necessities or caprices of a minister. How- of the state. It is also equally obvious, that that tution the only check upon legislation which it can ling will of the people is displayed. That is essen ever, there appears to be no other means left to M. power is the result of the social compact; that recognize, or to which it can submit. Any check tially their mode as they have ordained it in the con de Villele to counteract that spirit of opposition from that compact, as from its natural radix, flow or control of the legislative power from any othwhich seems to reign in the chamber of peers. all obligations of a political and legal character; er quarter, or of any other kind, is neither more urged that the surrender should be made to three? The new hotel, or rather palace, occupied by the and that the obligation of the social compact, upon all the members of civil society, results from their having each freely assented to it; and hence it follows, as a clear and self-evident principle, that all obligation amongst men results from the exercise of volition, express or implied. Volition admiration excited by the splendour and richness is the elementary and primary ingredient in obof the furniture, she exclaimed to those near her, ligation. But the social compact and the constiwith a naivete, mingled with a little justifiable mal- tution are not, as some have urged, one and the same thing. They are distinct and essentially different things, By the social compact, the members of it agree to live together in a state of civil society, and for the protection of their rights stair-case for Madame la Comptesse to come down with all other "appliances to boot," in an equally their property and their persons, to submit them all to the regulation and the entire control of the will of the society. When this compact is formed, the society becomes thereby a corporate existence, a moral agent, and is invested with all the attributes and faculties of moral agency; it is Of a Committee of the General Assembly of Ken. | an entirety; it thinks, reflects, reasons, wills and tucky, in relation to the decision of the Court of acts. The earliest employment of its faculties, is in the organization of its government. It deline-The joint committee raised upon that part of nates, in its constitution, the form of the governthe Governor's communication which relates to ment of its choice. But unanimity is not, as it the official conduct of the Judges of the Court of was in the formation of the compact, necessary Appeals, have had that subject under considera- to the validity and obligatory effect of the constition, and beg leave to report: That the judges of tution. It was settled by the compact that the that court, at their last fall term, pronounced a will of the majority should govern. That is the decision in the cases of Blair vs. Williams, and only rational exposition of it, as to that matter .hostility. Since the restoration there has certainly Lapsley vs. Brashear, annulling, in effect, the The majority were, therefore, competent to the been no minister who has so firmly cast anchor in laws of this state in relation to replevin bonds, to formation of the constitution. The constitution the haven of power. One almost might say that M. the valuation of property subject to sale under may be altered, amended or abolished, without execution, to the sale of property under execu- throwing society back into a state of nature, or tion upon a limited credit, and even to the occu- at all imparing its corporate existence or moral pying claimant of land, and circumscribing, by agency, or even essentially endangering its liberthe reasoning which it employs, and in the prin- ty; for its liberty must, in every posture in which ciples which it attempts to establish, the legisla- it can place itself, depend upon its will, and that tive power of the government within a compass will must, according to the inherent laws, both of arranged and combined, or rather complicated too narrow to be exercised usefully or beneficial- matter and of mind, display itself in its prepondmatters, that his successor, whoever he might be ly to the community. The encroachment made erance. Neither the compact nor the constitue by that opinion, upon the constitutional and legis- tion contains any stipulation for a minority, or a lative powers of the legislative department, and majority, as such, or for the component parts of upon the great principles of self-government by either, in their minority or majority characters. the people, in the exercise, by that department, The members of each stand bound to abide by the project to the check and control of the judicia of its appropriate powers, and the afflicting de general will which, except in a few cases otherwise ry. Why should they be subject to the control of gree in which it was calculated to disorder the provided for in the constitution must be premulged the judiciary, rather than of the people, the only that public attention can be awakened to judicial they feel the impossibility of finding an efficient social relations throughout the community, could whether in giving form to the government or in successor at the present moment; and, therefore, in not, and did not, escape the discernment and vig- the enaction of laws, through the medium of the erralso, in the exercise of the controlling powers maintaining him in power, they yield to inevitable alance of our late excellent and patriotic chief majority. All that is said, therefore, about the necessity. This position is a strange and novel one magistrate, General John Adair.—In his commulights of the minorities, is incompatible with the and probably without a precedent in ministerial incation to the legislature, at the last session of very nature of civil society. Every just component that body, he invited their attention to the import tion of the social compact, and of the constitution, immediately and directly responsible, and transferof that decision. The committee to whom that forbids the idea, and every proposition in relation part of his communication was referred, made a to the rights of a minority as a dissentient portion report sanctioning the decision, and asserting the of the community, is a solecism in politics, of the The rights of each member of society must,

most palpable kind. that chamber are not unaware that the fall of M de tive powers. The legislature, by appropriate from the nature of government, depend upon the will of all, and that will must be aisplayed by the agency or expression of the majority. The of the opinion, and affirmance of their sentiment, | rights of all are equal, homogeneous and correlasuperadded a contrary enactment, entitled "an tive, and depend alike upon the general will .act to regulate the issuing of executions." appro | The majority is the channel through which the stream of that will must, to be efficient, flow. The ly formed between the two departments, and re- minority is the divergent tendency of a portion le has held them up, but let him withdraw his hand | ferred to the people, that august and paramount of its volume, which, by meeting with resistance tribunal, from whose appeal there can be no de- in its lateral direction, forms a temporary eddy, cision by either party. They, it is believed, have and again disappears by its confluence with the made up their verdict, and it remains that their general stream. The presumption is, always, that the minority is wrong; and the only right give it effect, and enrol it in the archives of state. which it has, is to escape from that imputation by endeavouring to become, through its enlargement the majority, and in its success, to lose, with its existence, its right. It has been said, that the will of the people, in civil society, constitutes the sovereignty of the state; that sovereignty, is essentially a moral force, of unlimited extent, and in its elementary state, consisted in the will of each individual member of society, inferior to the social compact; the great political principles with which those for man is social, and lived in society even in a state of nature The compact gives rise, not to society, but to the corporate agent, the moral personage called civil society. In civil society, each of its members exerts a double will, the one seduced or derided into the belief that the judi- as a commoner of nature, the other as a member ciary possesses the right. by the constitution of of the corporate body. The first is erratic, imthe state, or upon the natural and acknowledged pulsive and selfish; the other is social, or rather political, and its state of confluence with the like principles of fitness, upon which all free governments are based, to check and control the legiswill of the other members, is, like that of those with which it is associated, pure, enlightened and It is a principle of axiomatic character, that in disinterested. It is this confluent will which the subject, their severcien; for the people, through ment a quietus. There are superadded also quali-of course, as in gratitude, if not in duty, bound, and paramount power, competent to all the pur- community; which displays its power in the connor less than tyranny.

The limits prescribed in the constitution to the tion, that both the constitution and the code derive their authority. The settled cannons of our political rights and of sovereign agency, are proclaimed in the constitution. For our civil rights we examine the code. The legislature, in supplying the code, display the will of the people. limited only by their own pre-ordinations in the constitution, and that government only is free, which knows no restraint upon the legislative faculties, which was not imposed by itself in its organization; and among free governments, that is freest in which no restraint upon its legislative power is to be found in its constitution, which is not essentially necessary to its existence and wellbeing. It is by legislation only that an organized government can express its will, and as the freedom of an individual is diminished or extinguished by the partial or total control of his will, so is the freedom of government diminished or extinguished by the partial or total control of the legislative power. Any people, therefore, which imposes in its constitution a restraint upon the exercise of the legislative power, not necessary to the well-being of the government, so far uselessly diminishes its liberty; for, as in the animal body the exercise of voluntary action is limited only by that mechanical action of the vital organs, which is necessary to the circulation of the fluids, upon which life depends; so, in the body politic; the power of legislation should be limited by that display only of fixed will in the constitution, which is necessary to its living and

But it is urged, that the representatives of the

Are they less liable to err than the legislature? But would not the skein of legislative power be strange ly striped, if the control of the legislature were taken from the people, to whom its members are red to the judges, to whom they bear no responsi ble relation? And is it not strange that the power to control the legislature should be ascribed to the judges, who are themselves, immediately responsible to that body, as the organ of the people! But in controlling the only organ by which the people can express their will, would not the judges control the people themselves? But the necessity of the control of the legislative power by the judiciary, is not perceived. Does either reason or the experience of governments, sanction it? It is believed not. The most solemn and eventful display of the legis lative power which can be made by any people, is made in the organization of their government, in from their being availed in that interesting process, of the controlling wisdom of the judiciary, the land it remains to be seen, whether it has furnished judges are, by it, then only for the first time, brought into existence, and that only in contemplation. It is reserved by that instrument, for the legislature, the very body whom they assert the right to control, to create them. and prescribe their duties; and it would seem, that if the people were wise and virtuous enough to be trusted with the organization of the government, and with the specification and recognition in the constitution, of their great and essential rights, they ought to be supposed to be wise enough to enact laws for its adminis the judiciary as the former. The same people that formed the constitution, enact the laws; and if they were equal to the former, they ought not to be supposed to be incompetent to the latter. Judicial ple, it is admitted, are sovereign, and the legisla- become eligible to their respective branches. No ture is the only organ by which they can express their will. The control. then, of that only organ, is to cortrol the people. But they cease to be sovereign when they are controlled, and the judges who control them become the sovereign. This theory. then of judicial control, eventuates in a carious spectacle-the creature controling the creatur- sury all arrears, and obtained from that departevery government there must exist a controling ligives form to the government and law to the their legislative organs, created the judges-

Again; it is certainly more rational to leave the ments of power must be subordinate and amena- regulates the selfish will of individuals It pos- the constitution seemed to have placed it, in the people of the governing power to the appellate Why not to one! Is not the reasoning in favor of the control of the power of legislation by the three, as much stronger in favor of the conlegislative power, are but the modes in which the trot of the people by one, than of their self control, sovereign has ordained that that power shall be as three is numerically nearer to one than to half exerted; for the ordination of fundamental rules, | a million! If the judges possessed the purity and wise and the enaction of laws, are alike the exercise of dom of archangels, it would be unwise to concede the sovereign power. It is from that considera- to them the power contended for, unless they were also immortal; for however wisely and benificently they might exercise it, their successors might exercise it, wickedly and oppressively Besides. if the principle were once conceded, some ambitious aspirant might relieve them of the trouble of exerting the ruling power, and take it with the entirety of legislation into his own hands.

Again; it is said that the judiciary is the weakest department in the government, and that there is security against the injurious exercise of the controling power asserted for the judges, in its weakness. If the judiciary were really weaker than the legislative department, then would the doctrine of their right to control the exercise of the legislative power, be as absurd on philosophic, as it is erroneous on political principles. It would be to assert that the minor could control the major. But is the judicial really the weakest department of the government of Kentucky! The extent of the jurisdiction of the appellate judges, their tenure of office for life, and ne exemption which their decisions enjoy from revision, reversal or control, would seem to indicate great strength in that department. They have society in their power, by having the dearest interests of every one of its members liable to be drawn into contest before them, and decided irreversally v them. The extent and character of their juris liction, is calculated to impress awe upon all, and excite by its perversion, the sympathy of but w. The worst deci ion, where individual intersts only are involved, can affect afflictingly but, one of the parties. The sufferer experiences the condolence and sympathy of his immediate con nexions, and friends only, and they form but one inconsiderable portion of society; and even they may be constrained to be silent lest by awaking the resentment of the judges, they should in time experis ence the like fate. It is only when, as in the cases people may err in the enaction of laws, and that a ove alluded to, the judges attempt to fasten upon therefore, the exercise of legislative power should society, principles incompatible with its fundamen al rights, and to prostrate the remedial system, un on which its interests and its tranquillity, repose, and legitimate sovereign? May not the judiciary aberration and frailty; and even then, the strength of the department is displayed in the almost inacessible posture of its incumbents. That the judi cial d partment is to its political organization weaker than the legislative department, it is not less the felicity than the pride of the people of Kentucky to know and believe. Hence it is believed that it was not the intention of the people that the latter should be controled by the former. But that it is strong, adventitiously, at least, is evinced by the effort made, as well by its incumbents as others, to sustain the obnuxious decisions alluded to, and to prostrate the remedial system of the state.

Those who acknowledge the right of the people to govern themselves, and their power to do so is su_ preme, and consists in their will, usually display a seeming reverence at least for their supremacy. What but an illusive consc o sness of their strength could have restrained the appellate judges fromdoing so?-There is a majesty in public will, which it requires great confidence to defy; there is a force the formation of their constitution; and yet, so far in it which it requires great strength to resist. The constitution forms the only limit to its power; to the appellate judges a posture of exemption from the arbitrament of public sentiment.

But may it not be confidently asserted, that the people in the construction of the legislative department, interwove in its machinery, by constitutional provisions, the only checking and controling powers to which they intended to subject it?- I hat department consists, according to the constitution, of the house of representatives, the senate, the lieutenant governor and governor. The members of the first are elected annually, and serve one year tration-the latter as well without the control of only; those of the second are elected for, and serve four years, and one fourth of them are moreover elected annually, The lient governor and governor, are each elected for four years. The members of the house of representatives must have control cannot be more necessary in the perform- arrived at the age of twenty-four years; those of ance of the latter, than of the former; but the peo | the senate at the age of thirty five, before they person, while he continues to exercise the functions of a clergy man, can be elected to a seat in either house. No perso who shall have been either a principal or edputy collector of taxes, can be elected until he snall have paid into the treafications as to residence of the members of both bodies, and of the Governor and Lieutenant Gov ernor. Both branches shall keep journals of their proceedings, and any two members of eith er branch may, by calling for the yeas and nays. have the vote of the house recorded on the journals. The journals shall, moreover, be published weekly. The lieutenant Governor shall preside in the senate, and maintain order in that body, and in case of a division, give the casting vote. The Governor shall approve and sign evoriginated, with his written reasons for withholding his signature. Those reasons are to be spread upon the journals, and the vote is then to | judges. be taken upon it by aves and nays; in which case it requires a majority of all the members elected to both houses to give it the force of a law, against his veto. Whence all this particularity, this almost redundant caution in the process of legislation? Not, surely, with an eye to judicial control. Whence, but to permit those only to be employed in it, who were most capable of it, and to subject them, while engaged in it, to a strong conciousness of their responsibility to the people and thereby to secure them against the indulgence of any erroneous, selfish, or corrupt impulses whatever; to filtrate and clarify the stream of it might be tainted, by the channels through which it had to flow, before it could be chrystalized into law? The members of the lower house are to be elected annually, that they may but for a short time, lest they should pervert or disobey that will; lest by mistaking the impulses fore, be always awake to danger. of a portion, for the will of the whole people, they might inffict lasting ills upon the community .-The period of their services is short, that their responsibility may be the more direct, and their conciousness of it the more vivid; that the ills inflicted by their errors, might be the more speedily corrected by their successors. The members of the senate are elected for four years, for the purpose of checking and controling any feverish, impulsive, or tumultuary tendency which might be displayed on the part of the immediate reprepresentatives of the people; while the latter, in truth were intended to check and control any arristocratic direction which that body might, owing to its more remote and less responsible posture, be disposed to take. The Governor's limited legislative power was superadded, as a check upon both, in the maintenance of that equipoise between them, in the exercise of their respective powers, which would be atike remote from the evils of anarchy and aristocracy. The term of his service, his incapacity for immediate re-election, and his remote exemption from the power of either branch, qualified him admirably r the exercise of a limited control over both .-To all these cautionary provisions, there is superadded in the constitution, the provision that eveorder or resolution, before it con have efof a law, must be read and free discussion had thereon, on three several days, in each house, unless 4 fifths of the members shall dispense with the rule. Surely if onehundred members of the the house of representatives, the thirty eight of the senate, the Lieut, Governor and the Governor, possessing the qualifications, occupying the postures, and performing the duties prescribed to them in the constitution, cannot, in the exercise of the legislative power, secure the confidence and promote the comfort of society, that great object cannot be accomplished by superadding the control of the three judges. But is there any peculiar or intrinsic fitness in the judicial department, for the control of the legislative? Are they less frail and more inaccesstreams of public will, in their meanderings thro' evinced by their constitution. There is no form the channels of the legislative process, and their given in that instrument in which an execution more ramified meanderings throughout society? The judges, appellate and subordinate, form a distinct official corps. They are, by their official situation, apart from the great body of the people to a certain extent. Their number is comparatively small; their power as has been shewn, necessarily great. Their duties lead them to an intercommunion with each other, and with a few in society, (rather than with the people,) who by person; for an injury done him in his lands, goods, their wealth, as they by their salaries, are exempted from the usual employments of common life, and the consequent cares and inquietudes which are inseperable from the condition of the great mass of mankind; and it is this common conition of mankind which needs the remedial energies of government, and must always invoke them when they are needed. Habitudes of thought and of action, peculiar to the posture of rule and dominion, which the judges occupy, are naturally soperinduced; and being aloof from the people, they cannot be supposed to be sufficientip acquainted with their condition and their the people in their constitution, they must furwants to exercise usefully, either the legislative | nish it by their legislative enactments, or the power, or safely to check and control its exer-

upon this subject, is, that both the departments according to law, not to make laws. The legisare destitute of political power, further than lature, then, are to enact the laws by the course they derive it from the people, the acknowledged source of all the power belonging to civil so- courts. Now, in furnishing the kinds of execuciery. They are but functionaries; the one to tion and prescribing the mode by which, and the promulge the will of the people, and the other to time within which, they should be executed and carry it into effect. The will expressed by the returned by the ministerial officers, the legislaone, is the rule of the official conduct and duties ture were left by the constitution to the free exof the other. But if the latter could control the former, in the exercise of its legislative powers, then it could, by that control, regulate its own conduct and duties, by its own will, the eby uni- tution of the U. States, which provides that "no ting in itself, the legislative with the judicial state shall pass any ex post facto law, or law impower, contrary to the spirit and letter of the pairing the obligation of contracts" probabits the constitution For, to control the will of any a- legislature from exercising its discretion as to the goot, is to deny to it the power of action, in any time within which an execution shall be levied other mode, than according to the will of the con- and returned. Those who urge that sentiment. troling power. So the power asserted for the must insist that every execution shall be levied judiciary is, in effect, the power to control the and returned in the shortest possible time, and people. It is the ascription to them, of the par- that the courts shall, in every instance, deter amount and sovereign yower of the state.

knowledge it to be the duty of judges to deter- the constitution, provides, that no person shall mine upon the validity of any law, when its con- be deprived of his life, or liberty, or property, itintionality shall be drawn into contest before without "due process of law." But an execution them, in any cause which it becomes their duty | teprives the defendant of his property. It must to dide. Their power to do this is incidental therefore, be a "process" formed and regulated to thei judicial duty, and must be exerted under by "lavs;" so that both constitutions alike protheir olicial responsibility to the people, through their representatives. The law was enacted by those representatives under a carect responsibil ity to the people. The decision of the people, in relation to their responsibility, should be a like efficient, and alike acquiesced in by the o distrust the integrity, or intelligence of the eople; for when the competency of the people o govern them elves is acknowledged, there is in the acknowledgment conceded to them, the intelligence, the virtue, and the power necessary to all the purposes of self government, the con cession of the means. A law, therefore, declared by the judges to be unconstitutional and void be obviously and palpably so, that the people when their attention was drawn to the subject by ery bill, or send it back to the branch in which it the decision, whould perceive at once, that their representatives had erred in its enaction, and sanction the declaration of its validity by the

The people have no motive, they can have none, to take part with the members of either department, unjustly or injuriously to those of the other. Their object is, and must necessarily be, the promotion of the general welfare. They cannot conceive, or connive at any error or obliuity in either department, which threatens to contravene or thwart that great object. The general welfare consists in the enjoyment of his rights, political and civil, and the performance of his duties, by every member in the community. Political rights are seldom violated by individual aggression: and when individual rights the people's will, from the impurities with which are assailed by individual outrage, reparation is speedily awarded, while justice regards the public will as the criterion of her awards. It is, as history and observation prove, from the official ranks that danger to the political and civil rights go into session with a knowledge of the wants of of society is to be apprehended. It is under the the people, and of their will in relation to those mask of the exercise of official duty, that oppreswants, fresh in their minds. They are elected sion is inflicted upon individuals, and fastened upon states. The vigilence of society should there-

Power of every kind should be watched by a free people, with a zeal proportioned to their re- three sections of the constitution exclusively relagard for their freedom.

the judiciary, should be the subject of jealous viglaws. It is the practical operation of these laws that forms the points of sensative contact, between the force of public will and the sensation of the individual members of the community. It is at this point, that official malversation inflicts sensation of society pays the greatest homage to legislative wisdom and power. For when the heriff or marshal seizes the property of an individual and bears it off, nothing but the authority under which he professes to act distinguishes him from a robber or a tyrant. But the knowledge of the proprietor, that he is an officer, and that his property is in the custody, not of the individual, but of the law, to be dealt with not according to the discretion of the man, but to the will of the community, reconciles him to the measure, tranquilizes his mind. The conciousness that the laws under which the seizure was made, were enacted by the people, and that while they proclaim the liability of his property to seizure, they limit and define the authority, and prescribe the duties of the officers in relation to it, has a mighty influence in winning his quiet acquiescence The nature of the duties, therefore of the ministerial officers of justice, and the relations into which they are thrown in the performance of those duties, render it peculiarly proper as well in relation to the security of individuals from oppression, as in relation to the tranquility of society and the authority of the government, that those duties and relations should not be left to judicial or ministerial discretion, but be defined by legislative enactments,

That such was the intention of the people, is shall be made out. It designates no period at which it shall be issued, or within which, after it shall have issued, it shall be levied and returned. peals, shall be subject to such restrictions and re-It is entirely silent as to the mode of proceeding gulations as may from time to time be prescribed in civil cases. Nothing is said about the writ by law. original, intermediate process, or writ final. It enjoins, in the thirteenth section of the tenth article, that "all courts shall be open, and every erson or reputation, shall have remedy by the istered without sale, denial or delay." But it furnishes no code of 'law' by the 'due course,' of which justice is to be administered. It is not to be administered according to the discretion of the judges: it is to be administered by the courts, "without sale denial or delay, according to the due course of law;" and as the 'law' by the 'due course of which it is to be administered, is not to be the statute book. Not having been ordained by larging or deminishing the number of Judges injudges must furnish it. But it is not pretended that the judges can enact laws, whereby to ad-But what ought, it is believed, to be decisive minister justice. They are to administer justice of which justice is to be administered by the the people only.

But tiss alledged that the clause of the constimine, from the circumstances of the case, what is To has the people cannot consent. They ac- that shortest time. But the fifth amendment to mbit the judges from administering justice ac ording to their discretion or to any other criterithan law

But if an execution must be issued, levied and turned, in the shortest possible time, in everstance, then the mode of proceeding on the members of both departments. It ill become part of the ministerral officers, cannot be pre didner to another clause of the constitution which lown quiet on their account.

I the members of either, to question the power, or is scribed by the legislature, and the administration is lower that this also was the opinion of the members of either, to question the power, or the members of either, to question the power, or the members of either, to question the power, or the members of either, to question the power, or the members of either, to question the power, or the members of either, to question the power, or the members of either the members of eithe of the judges, exercised upon the circumstances and situation of the parties, and their proximity to, or remoteness from the office whence the execution emenates, must determine the time and furnish the rule in each particular case. The same discretion must be exercised in ascertainty with the requisite despatch; and what is worse, this discretion must, in every instance, be exercised retractively, to furnish the law of proceed. ing in each. Can any thing more tyrannical be onceived of? Upon this hypothesis, the rights of the people would be subjected, in the first instance to the discretion of the sheriff or his deputy, and in the last to that of the courts. Discretion, when exercised by the appropriate department, under the appropriate responsibility to the people, in the enaction of laws in relation to this ubject is the process by which a free people regulate their own concers; exercised by any other description of magistracy, it is tyranny, and the people will ac viesce in its exercise, cease to be

(To be concluded next week.)

Communications.

EXAMINER NO 2.

COURT OF APPEALS.

In the last Gazette I attempted a succinct enquiry in the legality of the late measure of the Kentucky Legislature in relation to the court of appeals. I called the attention of the public to the ting to the judiciary. The first vests the judicial But executive power installed for life, as in power in one supreme court and such inferior courts as the general assem's, may from time to time ilence; and that yigilence should be displayed establish. The second provides that the court of more especially in the enaction of its execution appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction coextensive with the state, under such instructions and regulations as may from time to time be prescribed by law. And the third declares that the term of office shall be during good behaviour yet subjecgreat agony upon society. This is the point at ting judges to a removal from office on the address hich legislative enacments should limit official of two thirds of the members of both houses on setliscretion; and this is the point also at which the Iting forth the cause. From these clauses I drew the inference that the sovereign power of the representives of the people was unlimited except in a manner specified in the constitution. That the there could be established but one supreme court yet there might be an augmentation or deminution of the number of Judges; that one or more judges could be assigned to that court exclusively, or the circuit Judges might be directed to hold it; or any other regulations made that should be thought necessary by a majority of the legislature. But where a judge was removed for misconduct on specified charges a concurrence of two thirds of the members was necessary which however must not prevent the discharge of judicial officers on the discontinuance of the court, by the act of a bare majority. I will now offer some further suggestions on the subject. Each successive generation is entitled to equal hherty, with those which prece ded it, under our constitution; whatever privileges our predecessors were entitled to, we also have a right to enjoy, and in like manner our political franchises pass unimpaired to our successors. If those who performed the office of Legislation, immediately after the adoption of the constitution could exercise the priviledge of forming regulations for the organization of the judiciary invaluable right seems in like manner extended to as by the second section of the constitution refered to, which expressly provides that the court of ap

This power either expressed or implied is indispersible to the good government of the community. If the judicial system once organised could never be changed, only those who framed the first statute course of the law, and right and justice admin- on the subject would enjoy the freedom of choice in the character and organization of judicial tribunals. Such never could have been the intention of the framers of the constitution, nor is it to befairly inferred from the instrument itself. The rational construction of the provision in question is that the general assembly has the right to legislate on the subject from time to time, adopting such refound in the constitution, it must be looked for in gulations as experience may point out as useful, en. creasing or lessening the number of terms, or repealing the whole law, and commencing a new If those who went before us had a right to enact a law, we now have the right to repeal it; as our political rights and powers are as great as theirs were. Hence I have presumed that if the last legislature had thought it unnecessary to retain a corps of Judges, exclusively for the purpose of discharging the duties of the supreme court, the law directing the appointment of Judges of that court might have been repealed, and the circuit ercise of their discretion subject to the control of judges, directed to hold an appellate court as is now done by the circuit judges, of the United Conformably to this idea, the judicial system of Kentucky has undergone successive changes this scrutiny of motives is an ignis fatuous, it is a the quarter, session gave place to the District the voice of the people through their representatives and the circuit courts established; & again by ant to their constitutional powers; what remains is the same voice, at the last session the supreme court to discover by the lamp of experience, whether the eye nor the touch can give any assistance, and which is similar in some of its provisions on this subject to that of Kentucky, an act of Congress reorganizing the United States circuit court, augmen er measure promising more beneficial results. It ducing and adjusting the apparatus shall have been ting the number of Judges; was passed, and at the is great folly for the citizens of the commonwealth following session, that act was repealed and the to divide into parties, arraying themselves under Judges dismissed.

Thus far I have reason to show that the same of justice cannot take place according to law, as of the convention. That body having provided Dear Sir, rescribed by both constitutions. The discretion for the several departments of government; giving to the legislature the power to enact all laws necessary for the good government of the commonwealth, and provided that judicial officers should hold their office during good behaviour; in takinga retrospect of what they had done, and being a the 10th instant. The article relates to the Liing whether the officer has performed his du- ware that legislative alterations would be made in thotomic operation of Mons, Civiale of Paris. the laws relative to the courts, that one court might be abolished and another established, and contend that altho the office itself was extinct yet that they were still in office being appointed during good behaviour, the convention introduced into the validity of the charge, your correspondent the constitution under the division of general pro- W. positively denies, and to sustain himself and visions the following section.

torneys for this commonwealth who receive fixed annual salaries from the public treasury, Judges the bladder.) and clerks of courts &c. (naming other officers)! the continuance of their respective courts under the exceptions contained in this constitution.

views of the members of the convention on this sub- account of the stone quarrying operation, which Ject it proves that judges shall hold their offices during good behav jour and the continuance of their medical conversation a topic, about which so respective courts. Then if the court ceases to exist, the judge goes out of office altho his behaviour is unexceptionable. How can a court cease to exist! There is but one way that I am aware of: that is by the repeal of the law establishing it. Then the true meaning of the constitution seems to be that judges continue in office until they misbehave or until the law establishing the court which they preside in is repealed. On the present occasion one of the contingences has happened, the law establishing the court has been regularly repealed and the court discontinued; consequently the judges no longer hold their places, and what is a little remarkable the very state of things which the convention seemed to have anticipited and intended to prevent by the 12th section has occurred; the three judges discharged from office by the discontinuance of the court contend that being commissioned during good behaviour, and having been guilty of no fault as they believe, claim to be still in office. The ob vious impropriety of this is striking to all dispassionate persons who read the provisions of the constitution on the subject, and to such it becomes manifest that this opinion of the ex-judges is at war with the spirit of a republican government. In this free land the will of the people is sovereign; that will is indicated by the majority of voices expressed by the representatives of the people. The people can make and unmake courts at pleasure; they appoint persons to administer the government and have agreed upon a plan for that purpose which is denominated the constitution. In this instru- to the bladder; and when protruded beyond the ment the people have reserved the right by their extremity of the canula, they might open by their delegates to alter, abolish and remove their ju- elasticity so as to receive the stone, and confine dicial tribunal. And when they declare by a madit against the canula, by retracting them? The ority of their representatives that a particular proper direction of the ware-springs, so as to on court shall be discontinued, and its officers and their pen when they are pushed through the canula, assistants persist in opposing the measure; it is saying that a majority, must submit to be controlled time be introduced through the canula, the ham by the minority a proposition sapping the foundaion of political liberty.

From the view of the subject which I have taken, it appears that the Legislature, in the exercise of its legitimate powers has repealed the law establishing the court of appeals, whereby the court hold their former official stations, as they only held it not to be impracticable, since I read the above their places during the continuance of the courts to account of Colonel Martin, though I had often bewhich they belong. And notwithstanding that this repeal or dissolution of the courts was by a bare majority, yet it is constitutionally done in as much as two thirds are only required when the judges are removed on account of the other contingency, that is for misbehaviour, and as in this case no charge is timic operation which that gentleman recomexhibited against the judges and no application is made to remove them but the office is extinguished bare majority was all that was necessary.

But it is said that though the letter of the constitution has not been violated the spirit has; that the object was to break the judges and not to viale, then, has not read it the fault is his own; amend the laws; that though the representatives of for it is certainly accessible to him. the people had the right to repeal the law and thus dissolve the court, yet as it was done alone, to get rid of disagreeable judges it was uplawful. As the neasures; it may be asked before what tribunal can their motives be enquired into and revised. The answer is the bar of the sovereign people. Be answer is the bar of the sovereign people. Be it so: to an overwhelming majority of the people, the ex-judges were offensive; at least such air inferance may be drawn by the result of the elections last August; and the representatives of the people in accordance with the wishes of their constituents is unfavourable to the Parisian operation Appear-Then will the people censure their representatives! the motives of the legislature may have been, so Jack with a lantern that leads into the quicksands Courts, which were in their turn swept away by and mire of contention and abuse. It is enough that the general assembly have proceded accord- ratus is exceedingly difficult to manage. wisely, or otherwise. If on trial it become appar- put the whole in operation, without endangering er under the constitution of the United States ent that the new court does not in its decissions equal the high expectations that are entertained of it, dissolve that tribunal also, and adopt some oth- tors. Nor is this all. When the difficulty of introthe standard of the different courts and criminating and re-criminating each other. We should recollect pulsive force, tending to make it escape, such a construction of the constitution and usage under it, that these several sets of judges are mere political authorise legislative changes in the judiciary: and puppets and that the people are the masters of the mat it never could have been contemplated that the show and work the wires We do not belong to aws on this subject were unalterable. I will now them but they to us and we should not disturb our

That two writers should contradict each other positively in relation to the same fact, and both be correct in their statements, is no common event, Yet that such an event may occur, is demonstrated by an article, beaded "MEDICAL" and signed W. which appeared in the Gazette of

A writer in the Nashville Whig, of the 14th ultimo, had asserted, that the late Dr. Darwin the judges who were thus discarded perhaps might had described and recommended this operation nearly thirty years ago, and hence preferred against Mons, Civiale the charge of plagiarism.

The truth of this assertion and consequently. affix error on his antagonist, quotes what he de-Sec. 12. The Attorney General and other at- clares to be "all that Darwin says about any instrumental operation for the disease." (Stone in

The misunderstan g between these two writers may be explained with great ease, and in a shall hold their offices during good behavi our and way perfectly consistent with the veracity and medical information of both.

Dr. Darwin published, during his lifetime, two This section evidently shows what were the editions of his Zoonomia The first contains no constitutes, at present, so prevalent a topic of much is confidently said, and so little really known. This is the edition which must have been consulted by your correspondent W. The second, which would seem to be that that has been read by the writer of Nashville, and which may be referred to by any one, in the medical library of Transylvania University, contains. a very accurate account of the operation, i. e. of the apparatus and the way in which such an oporation may be performed, as satisfactorily appears from the following extract:

"A curious account is given in a letter to Sir John Sinclair from Colonel Martin; who asserts, that after using bougies and miections into the bladder, the passage of the urethra became less sensible to pain,, and he was enabled to introduce. small files (I suppose with their backs smooth;) and by these he gradually filed away the stone, as it lay in the neck of the bladder. When the stone did not properly present itself, he introduced warm water by injection into the bladder and thus again endeavouring to discharge it, brought forward the stone to the neck of it He used the ile three times in twenty-four hours, from April till October. Medical Journal, No. 11: p. 121.

"If this process should be again attempted, perhaps the file might be introduced through a flexible canula, with a metalic hood at the external end of the canula to cover the back of the file, so as to prevent the friction of it against the urethra, or neck of the bladder. It the urethra, by frequent trials, should become so insensible as to admit easily the frequent introduction of the metalic canula, might not two fine steel wires, properly tempered, be joined at one end by a hinge, and thus introduced through the canula inmust be previously given them. If this could be managed, a small file or borer might at the same dles of which might consist of joints to permit them to bend in all directions, and thus the stone might be broken to pieces by a few trials; or if the stone was soft or fragile, the retraction of the wire-bow might divide it at every trial, till it became almost reduced to powder. A little mechanical ingenuity might in the conhas ceased to exist and the late judges no longer struction and use of this machinery; but I believe fore thought of it with despair of its successful application.', Zoonom. Vol. II. Class I. 1.3.10. That Mons Civiale has ever read the preceding passage, the writer of this article neither affirms nor denies. Nor does he hazard any positive assertion respesting the fate of the lithomends. But in relation to both topics, he confesses frankly that he finds it difficult to banish suspicion and suppress doubt. That Darwin's Zoonomia (both editions, as he firmly believes) is to be found in the public-libraries of Paris, he knows to be true. If Mons Ci-

And as to the demolishing and extractive process recommended, the undersigned regrets to say, that it never has presented itself to him in an imposing form. He has not yet been able to regard members of the legislature were exclusively vested it as a master operation for a formidable disease. with the power to cecide on the expediency of the He will not so far disparage the apparatus employed, as to call it a gimerack; or to smile at it as the profe sional toy of the day .. But he will say that his apprehension of its insufficiency overballances

To find himself mistaken on this subject will be matter of rejoicing to him. For he is prepared to hail with sincerity and ardour, any new and effectual means to improve the art of healing, and to diminish the amount of human suffering.

have by a change in the judiciary which they had a lances are discouraging, at least, if they do not acright to make, discarded their offensive judges. thally condemn it. Its sufficiency, then, can be established only by experience. But the experience of Europe has not yet established it; and that of the for doing that which they themselves desired! United States, as far as it has gone is directly against Little apprehension need be entertained whatever it. Hence the caution with which it should be recommended by Physicians of years, experience and standing. And for young practitioners, in the they kept within their legitimate powers. But present stage of the business, to hazard on the issue of it, either the lives of their patients, or their own reputations, would be highly imprudent.

Appearances, it is repeated, are against it. Besides being necessarily flimsey and fragile, the appathe safety of the patient, would seem to be a process requiring a greater amount of mechanical dexterity overcome, a stone large and hard, more especially if it be somewhat smooth, is entirely beyond its powers either to hold or destroy. To secure even for a moment, especially under the action of a prosubstance by such an apparatus, and in such a situation appears impracticable. The very attempt would seem chimerical.

To say the most of it, then, the success of Mons. Civiale's operation, should it succeed at all, must be on a very limited scale. In male subjects, the case I must be peculiar and such, therefore, as does not dexterity. In common cases, and in the hands of ramou operators, the experiment must fail. Such at least, are present probabilities.

Of its success in female subjects, the prospect is better. But even there, if the stone be hard and ture of the state of Kentucky in 1822, and, in the large and smooth, it must prove abortive. At al events under the present mode, the extraction of a stone from the female bladder, is a process comparatively safe and simple.

Should the urethra and bladder, as is often the case, be tender and irritable, or the stone encysted, an attempt to perform the Parisian operation But the resources of the state, even when united must be necessarily injurious. Under such circum- with private donation, both of which have been stances, to cut through the parts would seem less hazardons than to irritate them greatly by pressure and friction. The breaking of the apparatus with- not equal to its philanthropy, or commensurate in the bladder, and the leaving of a portion of it there, are always to be dreaded.

liminary difficulties to be vanquished, and the stone broken to pieces, how is the operator to extract, with certainty all the fragments? or how know whether they are extracted? What will be the consequence of leaving in the bladder some of these fragments rendered angular and sharp by means perly represented to Congress assuch by the treof the operation! To say the least, they will con morial of the superintending committee. The long life of political integrity unstained by suspistitute nuclei for other stones, if they do not give rise to fatal inflammation, operation, which common reflection on the subject presents. Several others, which might be easily suggested, shall be waived for the present.

Your correspondent seems to regard as proof conclusive of the efficiency, of the operation, the eulogistic approval of it by the institute of France. In rep.y to this. he is requested to recollect, that testimony no less pointed, strong, and panegyrical was borne by the same body in behalf of the Experiwas borne hastily and on no solid foundation, is now admitted by all physiol ogists.

Nor is this the only high and confident European the United States. That of Digitalis in the cure of pulmonery consumption of ean medicinale in the cure of gout, and of colocynth in the cure of palsy, are but a few of the many instances that might be cited to this effect.

leave of your correspondent, and hopes he has said nothing offensive or disagreeable to him. If he has it has been unintentional.

CONCILIATOR.

FOR THE KENTUCKY GAZETTE. RUSSIA AND KENTUCKY HEMP.

There has been a great number of pieces pubdescribed has been found not to answer in this coun try as few people have it in their power to water Happily a much better and more certain way fore begleave to report u bill, has been discovered by Mr N Hart of this county. as published by him in the Kentucky Farmer last summer; which is simply to let it stand in stack until the 1st of December of the 2nd year, and then lay it down to rott in the common way, and when sufficiently rotted to take up it will be as white as any Russia nemp; and entirely free from the vegetable oil (colouring matter) and as capable of receiving tar as the other, and of course as hi for cables and cordage. If the hemp is stacked in round stacks in the common way, the roots will all rot off and save the tranble of chopping them off for the New Brake. If put up in stacks it will naturally in cline out and save the root, in which case it will be necessary to cover the top with straw, corntops or The hemp growers would certainly do not remain a doubt, as trial has been made by several farmers in this county, as well as myself. I will send you a sample the first safe opertunity or bring it the first time I go to Lexington. The stack which I tried was cultivated with the Russian hemp seed, but I do not find it fairer than that raised from the common hemp treated in the same way.

B. GAINES. N. B. I inclose you a strip of the hemp. Woodford county, Feb. 10, 1825.

DEAF AND DUMB ASYLUM Congressional.

tee to whom was recommitted a bill for the sowing thicker than usual, we think our hemp benefit of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum of Ken- would pass inspection. tucky, with instructions to inquire into the expediency of making provisions for the institution for teaching the deaf and dumb of New York, Pennsylvania and Detroit, made the fol- ries of papers on the subject

lowing REPORT: Your committee have given to the investiga ests and importance demanded. It certainly addresses a commanding claim to the philanthropist and the patriot. No condition of our nature can be conceived more deplorable than that of an individual who, born unfurnished with the speech. Unable to receive or accomplish the views in the last Legislature! transfusion of thought, his intellectual being ies buried in darkness, incapable of expansion, creation, exercise, or improvement. The cheerful and sympathetic voice of man he can neither It was called by a request in the Reporter, and no hear nor articulate-music caresses his ear, and exertion was made to induce the friends of constieloquence attempts his soul in vain—shaped at attend. The course pursued was to appoint a com- Clay," and informs him, that, by reference to the ter the image of his maker, with form erect, and mutee of which, we believe Mr. E. I. Winter was Editor of the Columbian Observer, he may ascer-"e e sublime," endued with innumerable aptitudes for feeling, reflection, and society, he stands, thous with a reamble. We are inclined to think to "H. Clay;" in the mean time, George Kremer "in cold obstruction." alone, in the midst of it was intended not to have any discussion, but to holds himself ready to prove, to the satisfaction of pass the resolutions, instanter. The address of the unprejudiced minds, enough to satisfy them of the thousands, inert, unsocial, and joyless. But the same Divine Power that saw fit to imprint, upon a part of the moral creation, uncommon marks except when the gentlemen of the Court party were alond and spare not," when their rights and priviart of man to supply this defect of nature; to form new channels of thought; to explore new sources sound; and although we concede there was a ma of language; and to bring up, to the surface of reason and enjoyment, that hapless portion of able number of persons from the neighbouring moments, while he asked its attention to a subject mankind who had drawn blanks in the lottery of life, and seemed destined for the condition of the putting the question was successfully opposed. brute. And it is the happiness of the present li was proposed to count the number present, and he presumed, of a member of this house from Pennage to contemplate, on both sides of the Atlantic the gentlemen who acted in that capacity states in the instruction of the deaf and dumb, this triumph of science and benevolence over misfor- stood and probably near the same number at the and which the author avowed his readiness to subtune. That a public effort, in so just and so generous a cause, should have been made by the he taken as a representation of Fayette, which lection; and the respectability of the station which state of Kentucky, is a fact honourable to the spirit and intelligence of that commonwealth, and in the opinion of your committee, entitles her not only to the respect of her sister republics, but to Barry and Haggin have been in attendance on restigation of them, and an impartial decision of often occar, and the operator peautier in manual the aid and patronage of the General Govern If the Favetre Circuit Court, since the adjournment If their truth. For if they were true, if he were cament, An institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb was incorporated by the Legisla following year, was put in operation at Danville. a contral point, combining as many advantages for the site of such an institution as any other point which could have been selected in the state. liberally applied to this interesting object, are with the demand for this peculiar benefaction Added to other considerations, suppose the pre- which the growing population of the western states presents to this the only institution of the seven members, who are to be chosen by balkind in the entire valley of the Mississippi; it lot. therefore becomes a national object, and is propeared, about a year since, that 130 persons, in that fate. that state alone, needed this kind of instruction. And it is well known that, although her soil is of commerce and active capital.

THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17, 1825.

TERMS; TERME BOLLARS (CURRENCY) PATABLE IN ADVANCE.

EDITED BY JOHN M. M'CALLA.

RUSSIA AND KENTURKY HEMP.

In a late Gazette, we gave a statement from the Secretary of the Navy, of the reasons which in- | mind no doubt that Congress would respond to the fluenced the Navy Board in using foreign instead will of the Nation, by electing the individual they themselves of the fact; of which however here can of American Hemp non Navy. Among the rea- had declared to be their choice. Contrary to this Stout, deceased. sons, was the difference in the colour, ours being expectation, it is now ascertained to a certainty, dark, whilst the foreign was light.

We refer our readers to a communication from Capt Gaines, in this days paper, on that subject: donment of duty to his constituents, it is said and If you think the above worth it, please give it an listed before, yet as many may not have seen it, we is to be appointed Secretary of State. I have no specimea which the author forwarded with the defeat every combination. The force of public communication, as also one from May D. B. Price opinion must prevail, or there is an end of Liberof Jessamine, of bemp prepared in the same way. ty." We are satisfied that neither of them would be rejected by the Navy board on account of its darkness of colour. If our hemp growers would so cultivate Mr. Moore, of Kentucky, from a Select Committee article, as to make the fibre soft and fine, by of ineffable contempt, the abuse which has been

KENTUCKYSTATE

We commence to day the pu judicial controversy. The determine their respective mental it is all importer, purported to have been written from this city tion of the subject the attention which its inter- tant that information should be laid before them of on the 25th instant, by a Member of the house of teract the influence of the numerous and palpable delegation. I believe it to be a fargery; but, if it leaders of the Court party, thinking no doubt they and a har-and if he dare unveil himself and avow will prevail by much speaking." In this they will his name, I will hold him responsible as I here ad sense of hearing, fails to acquire the faculties of be disappointed, as they were in their ambitious mit myself to be, to all the laws which govern and

PUBLIC MEETING IN FAYEFTE.

A meeting took place at the Methodist Church in this town on Monday last, of the old court party tutional liberty, and the rights of the people to tives, tenders his respects to the Honorabie "H. chairman, to draft resolutions. The committee dain the name of the writer faletter of the 25th refired and in six minutes produced a set of resolu-I slight attempt was mas made to oppose the sixth that letter, to the extent that they concern the resolution, but all discussion was loudly opposed, course and conduct of "H. Clay." Being a Repexcept when the gentlemen of the Court party were resentative of the People, he will not fear to "cr the vote was finally taken on that resolution to our leges are at stake. astonishment, there was but little difference in the jority in favor of the resolution, yet ve question if counties; and although a resolution was offered and in which he felt himself deeply concerned. contains 2,500 voters of its own.

ANOTHER SLANDER.

of the Court of Appeals. This conveys the id hat they were attending to the practice of the ourt We are authorised to say, that those genlemen have not directly or indirectly attended to he practice of law in this Court since their adournment; and that the only business they have ransacted was to appoint gentlemen of the proession to attend to their unfinished business .-We have endeavoured to avoid rudeness in the ontradiction of this slander, as it appears to hock the nerves of some gentlemen so severely.

MR. CLAY & MR. KREMER.

The following papers shew the present state of the controversy between those gentlemen .-The House of Representatives, after a debate o two days, referred the case to a committee of

Against the charge of corruption, which, if true, should and will prostrate Mr. Clay in the public estimation, we place without hesitation, a utmost extent of utility to which it could be car- cion. His assailant professes to have proof to Such are some of the objections to the Parisian ried by the private munificence and public patronage of Kentucky, it is probable would hardly does not produce it, he should be expelled the suffice for the wants of her own people, as it ap- house. If he does, his antagonist should meet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, 1825. Dear Sir-I take up my pen to inform you of one rich, and her people generous, she is remote of the most disgraceful transactions that ever covments of Dr. Le Gallois. Yet that that testimeny from market, and, in a great measure, destitute ered with infamy the Republican Ranks. Would you believe that men professing Democracy, could be found base enough to lay the axe at the very Your committee have ascertained that two inrecommendation that has been found falacious in stitutions for the instruction of the deaf and dumb is not less true. To give you a full history of this have been established, and are in successful oper transaction would far exceed the limits of a letter ation in the great state of New York, and two I shall therefore at once proceed to give you a brief more in Pennsylvania, and one in Detroit, in the account of such a bargain as can only be equalled With this the writer takes a kind and respectful Territory of Michigan, they likewise deserve the by the famous Burr Conspiracy of 1801. For some patronage and support of Congress. Your com- time past, the friends of Clay have binted that they mittee find that the principle and policy of exten- like the Swiss, would fight for those who would ding aid to institutions of this character, have pay best. Overtures were said to have been been recognised by the Congress of the United Clay, offering him the appointment of Secretary of States in a grant made to Connecticut Asylum; State, for his aid to elect Adams, And the friends and in that case, the discover a strong presedent of Clay gave this information to the friends of Jacklished, about the management of hemp in Russia, in to justify the passage of a bill for the benefit of son, and hinted that if the friends of Jackson our papers and Almanacks. The methods therein the Asylum of Kentucky, and those of New York would offer the same price, they would close and Pennsylvania, and Michigan. They there- with them. But none of the friends of Jackson would descend to such mean barter and sale. It was not believed by any of the friends of Jackson, that this contract would be ratified by the members from the states, who had voted for Mr Clay. I was of opinion when I first heard of this transaction, that men professing any honourable principle could not, nor would, be transferred like the planter does his negroes, or the farmer his team and horses. No alarm was excited-we believed the Republic was safe. The Nation having delivered Jackson into the hands of Congress, backed by a large majority of their votes, there was on my that Henry Clay has transferred his interest to John Quincy Adams. As a consideration for this abanalthough the plan therein detailed has been pub- believed, should this unboly coalition prevail, Clay are glad to give it another insertien We have the fears on my mind-l am clearly of opinion we shall

I have seen, without any other emotion than that poured out upon me by a scurrilous paper, issued in this city, and by other kindred prints and persons. in regard to the Presidential election. The editor of one of those prints, ushered forth in Philadelphia, called the Columbian Osserver, for which I do not, cation of the se. subscribe, and which I have not ordered, has had Legislative and the impudence to transmit to me his vile paper of read and the 28th instant. In that number is inserted a letofficial and weighty character, in order to coun- Representatives, belonging to the Pennsylvania mistatements., slanders, and misrepresentations | be genuine, I pronounce the member, whoever he which are continually pour d upon the public by the may be. a base and infamous calumniator, a dastard am plaintiff and you are defendant regulate the conduct of men or honour,

H. CLAY.

JANUARY 31st, 1825.

GEORGE KREMER, of the house of Representa-

ANOTHER CARD.

ndges was read, and the question then called for, accuracy of the statements which are contained in

Appeal by the Speaker to the House. The SPEAKER (Mr CLAY) rose from his place, and it was worth boasting of. There were a consider- requested the indulgence of the House for a few onded, to prevent such persons from voting, yet had appeared this morning, in the National Intellitellers stationed at the doors of the church. One of sylvania (Mr Kremer) which adopted, as his own a other door, which included those who were from stantiate by proof. These charges implicated his other counties, as well as boys. This will scarcely conduct, in regard to the pending Presidential e them to grave attention. It might be indeed worthy of consideration, whether the character and mode ate terms, for CASH. In the last Reporter it is asserted that Judges dignity of the House itself did not require a full in-tile and base enough to betray the solumn trus high the constitution had confided to him; if, yield g to personal views and considerations, he co impromit the highest interests of his country, the louse would be scandalized by his continuing to oc upy the chair with which he had been so long honorin presiding at its deliberations, and he merited astantaneous expulsion. Without however presum ng to indicate what the house might conceive ought to do on account of its own parity & honour, he oped that he should be allowed respectfully to solieit, in behalf of himself, an inquiry into the truth of he charges to which he referred. Standing in the elations to the house, which both the member rom Pennsylvania and himself did, it appeared to im that here was the proper place to institute he inquiry, in order that if guilty, here the proper punishment might be applied, and if innocent, that here his character & conduct may be vindicated. He anxiously hoped, therefore, that the house would be pleased to direct an investigation to be made into the truth of the charges. Emanating from the source which they did, this was the only notice which he could take of them. If the house should think proper to raise a committee, he trusted that some other than the ordinary mode pursued by the practice and rules of the House would be adopted to appoint the committee .- Int.

James C. Pickett of Mason county, has been appointed Secretary of State in the place of W. T. Barry, resigned.

JUDGE PATTON.

We have seen a letter from B. Patton, Esq. in which be states, that he is slowly recovering his health and accept the appointment of Judge of the Court of Appeals. We hope he will be able to attend at the next term; for his talents and acquirements will add much to the respectability and Goldsmith, of weight of the Court.

Argus.

We state on authority, that Judge Roper consented by letter to set on the trial of Isaac B. Desha; but that he apprised Judge Trimble, he had changed his mind on the eve of the trial. Judge Shannon was the nearest Circuit Judge and was applied to for that reason, To those who are charging Judges Trimble, Shannon, &c. &c. with corruption, we say, go on. Judge Shannon has already been burnt in effigy in a neighbourhood in Harrison county and in another in Bourson. Wickliffe's speech, threats to jur es and such proceedings, are the modes through which many men seem now to seek the orderly and independent administration of Justice!!- Ibid.

MARRIED-By the Rev. N. H. Hall, on the 15th inst Mr. James E. Christian to Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Jacob Kiser Esq. both of this

On Thursday the 10th inst. by the Rev. John Breckinridge, Mr. Clemant Dunkin to Miss Breckinridge, Mr. Clemant Dunkin to Miss Catharme Ann Woodsuff, both of this place.

Breckinridge, Mr. Clemant Dunkin to Miss Catharme Ann Woodsuff, both of this place.

Breckinridge, Mr. Clemant Dunkin to Miss Catharme Ann Woodsuff, both of this place.

Hill jr. Hannah H. Ambrose, George Ambrose, Nancy Thompson, Archibald Shockly, Susan Shockly, Elizabeth Thomas, Dantel Thomas & Catharme Ann Woodsuff, both of this place.

Outen, in the 81st year of his age.

-At the residence of Mr. P. Bain, on the 4th instant, MR. David Stort, Son of John W. C. Humphreys in the town of Lexington on the 18th hereby forewarn all persons from trading for two promissary notes one given by me to Moses J Bonner for seventy dollars and the other in favour of Francis Ogden for sixty dollars the debts not recol lected which notes were transfered by said Bonner and Orden to Joseph Ford and which I am deter mined not to pay unless compelled by law because I hold said Fords notes for a greater amoun GEORGE G. BROWN.

CAUTION.

Feh. 17th 1825-7-3t

forewarn all persons from trading with Hamilton Atchison Administrator of Daniel Dennison dec'd for a note which he holds on me for one bundred and thirty five dollars in silver, given in part ved, renders it comfortable for Carriages and Maggans pay for an unsound negro; as I am determined not to pay said note unless compelled by law

BRIGHT B. WEBSTER. Lexington Feb 17 1825-7-3t

MR. JOSEPH I. WILSON,

I shall attend at the office of Edward J. Wilson, in the town of Lexington, on Wednesday the 19th day I exington and its vicinity that he intend of February next, to take the deposition of Joseph | School on Wednesday the 2d day of March next in to pending in the Fayette Circuit Court, wherein I

SARAH F. WILSON. EDWARD J. WILSON.

Jan. 15, 1825 .- 4t

OFFICIAL PRIZE LIST OF FIRST DAY'S DRAWING, S XTH CLASS.

Grand Masonic Hall Lottery Villett took place at the Court House on 'u.s. ay last, in presence of the wag strates and others required by law, whose Ceruficates are filed in the Manr's Office.

Fortunate Nos. drawn from the Wheel. 1.—No. 19,....2.—No. 31,...3. No.—27 The Manager has the honour of announcing the following as the result, agreeably to Scheme. The Ticket having for its Combination, Numbers Nine teen, Twenty seven, Thirty one, has drawn

All lickets having upon them Nos. 19, 31—being the first and second Nos drawn from the wheel, are entitled to FIF!Y DOLLARS SPECIE EACH! and third drawn, are entitled to 10 DOI LARS EACH. Tickets having Nos. 27, 31—being the second and third are entitled to FIVE DOLLARS SACH. Fach Ticket having one of the above drawn numbers only have drawn TWO DOLLARS EACH CASH WILL BE PAID with our usual premp ness as soon as the Prize Tickets are presented J. M. PIKE, Manager. Lex. Feb. 17th 1825-7

CLOVER SEED.

THE subscriber has for sale a quantity of Clothe member holds, who thus openly prefers them, and that of the people whom he represents, entitled from Lexington to the Cross Plains, and near the ments. Walnut Hill Meeting-House, which he will sell on

> JOHN HAY. February 17th 1825-7-3t

CONCERT.

The Harmonic Society will give their THIRD CONCERT Or Tuesday Evening the 22d inst. at Mrs. Keen's Ball Room. Consisting of the following pieces, PART I. Grand Overture, Smethergil Military Waltz, Favourite Air - Come if you dare,' harmonized for full band 'Fly not yet" with Flute variations-Ratel [by request.] Brazilian Waltz, with variations and full orchestre accompaniments, Triumphal March in the Battle of Leipsic. Riotte.

PART II. Tarkish Overture, Steibett Favourite Scottish Air, barmonized for 1 full band. Quartetto, arranged for full orchestre Michel.

Ratel onett, performed by the author of the variations, FINAL-Overture to Guy Mannering. Performance to commence at 7 o'clock-Tickets One Dollar, to be had at Keen's and Ayres' Inns, at John Brenan & Co's and at M. Giron's.

Swiss Waltz with variations for Clari-

THEATRE.

THE THESPIAN COMPANY Respectfully inform the citizens of Lexington that they will present on Saturday Evening next, February 19, the sentimental comedy in five acts, written by Dr.

SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER, Or, The listakes of a Night;

Together with the Force of LOVE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS.

FOR SALE,

THE HOUSE AND LOT, situated at the corner of Short, and Lock at the corner of Short and Highstreets, opposite to the Court house and at present occupied by Nathan Burro es, For terms apply WALTER WARFIELD. Lexington, Feb. 17, 1825-7-tf

ash for Whiskey

chase is wished, those who apply first, will of course have the preference. Apply to T. KANE.

Main-street Lexington. Feb. 17-7-tf.

NOTICE.

Silas Hill. TAKE NOTICE we shall attend at the office of and 25th of March and 1st and 8th and 15th of April 1825 in order to take sundry depositions to be read in evidence in a suit in chancery depending in the Fayette Circuit Court wherein we are complainants and you are defendants.

SIMEON B. ALLEN. GREENSBY W. ALLEN.

Lexington Feb. 17, 1825-7-4t. 49年 111年

KEYS. N. M. SIMPSON

I to the brick house formerly occupied b WM WALLINGSFORD, where he intends keeping Dupey best Old whicker, by the Gall n and Barrel, is all kinds of Imported Liquors.
His Table shall be furnished with the best the mar-

N. B. All those having unsettled accounts with him. are requested to come forward and settle; if neglected they will find their accounts in an officers hands lex Feb 1st 1825 -- 5- 6:

EDUCATION.

SIR-TAKE NOTICE, That | English Class & Mathematical School, THE Subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Freeland, Robert Wilson, and William Russell, to town of Lexington, at the corner of Short and Will be read in evidence in a suit in Chancery, now Street, in the Messuage now occupied by Dr. John Richa dson where he prop ses to each Reading, Writing, Vulgar, Decimal and Comparative Arithmetic, English Grammar, Book Keeping (the whole three sets) Geometry. whole 12 books.) Modern Geography. Logarithms; plain, oblique and spherical Trigo try; Mensuration, Guaging, Gunnery & Fortification, Dialling, Surveying, Navigation, Algebra. Conic Sections. Mechanics Spherical Pro jections. Spheric Astronomy, together with Arithmetical Chances, Combinations. Sports & Pastimes, and Magical Squares. TERMS.

For Spelling, Reading Arithmetic &c. $3 50 English Grammar and Geography, All the other branches per quarter, 7 00 I is demed unnecessa, committee advan-tages of red by an estitution of this discription for use who have the to-chicate in the M thema ics. He to erefore hopes, while he presents this notice to a liberal and enlightened public, it at he may obtain the eral stare of their patronage. A subscription paper is in the hands of Mr. 21 Lunt, Book seller, where parnts of children, and others who may be disposed to diffuse the scences are respectfully invited to call and ubscribe their names

Note. Twelve weeks will complete a quarter All persons seeding child en to this school, are requested to pay 50 cents or entrance, for the purpose of defraventrance, for the purpose of defraying the expense of fuel &c during the wo first mon He also intends teaching an Evening School-terms as

Books and Instruments requisite for teaching the above Sciences.

Pickett's Spelling Book-Rand's Peamansh v's Grammar, Reader, &c -- Guthrie's Arithmencackson's Book-keeping-Bont castle's Me suration & Alg bra-Simpson's Euclid. Trigonom try and onles, Cummen's Geograp y and Maps-Gibson's curveyings Moor's Naviga ion -- Sterret's Gunnery, Lawry's tang-ing-Hawney's Dialling; Perguson's Mechanis; Keith's pherics-Keill's Astronomy -Sherw od's Logarithms; Gunter's Scale and Dividers -- a Dilling Scale

JOHN CONRY Reference-Mr. John Brown. Prof !! Tran: University.

Les. Feb. 10, 1825 .- C.- 3ta

POETRY

So 'tis with love. Its' filmy wing of azure hue, Lightly the fluttering insect plies, Breathless the joyful train pursues, But onward still the wanderer flies; If one at length the prize obtain, He thinks it fairer for his pain; So 'tis with love.

What sweetens the poor peasant's sleep! What makes the warrior's laurel dear! Why joy the heroes of the deep When first their native cliffs appear! Oh! 'tis the thought of dangers o'er Gives present bliss to charm the more;

So 'tis with love! MARTIAL HYMN. Oh, the sight entrancing When morning's beam is glancing O'er fields array'd With helm and blade, And plumes in the gay wind dancing; And the trumpets voice repeating That song whose breath

May lead to death, But never to retreating! Oh the sight entrancing When morning's beam is glancing O'r fields array'd With helm and blade And plumes in the gay wind dancing.

Tet 'tis not helm or feather-His plumed bands Could bring such hands And hearts as ours together. Leave pomp to those who need'em-Adorn but man with freedom, And proud he braves The gaudiest slaves

That crawl where monarchs lead 'em-The sword may piorce the beaver Stone walls in time may sever, 'Tis heart alone Worth steel and stone

That keeps man free forever. Oh that sight entrancing When morning's beam is glancing O'er files arrayed, With belm and blade And in Freedom's cause advancing.

I'wo Irishmen meeting in the street mistook each other for some other persons and shook hands, but in nediately discovering their mistake; one says to the other, "You thought it was me and I thought it was you, but faith I believe it's neither

Some great English Engineer, no matter who, was called before the House of Commons to state facts touching canals &c. Perhaps he meant to get the job of building one; -be that as it may he declared that canals were of more use than any one thought them or has found them since. A member of the commons a little amazed at his trotting his hobby so violently, attered a "Pray, Sir, if canals are thus omnipotent of good, are not navigable rivers of some use!" "Certainly sir," replied our Engimeer: " they serve to feed navigable canals."

FINANCIAL PUN .- While the celebrated Dector Cycll Jackson was Dean of Christ Church, Oxford, the conversation turned after dinner, at his table, on a plan of taxing the funds, which Mr Pirt was then said by some to have in contemplation. The Dean, in the course of the conversation turned to a young gentleman-commoner who dined with him, said in a joking way, "Well, Mr .--what do you think of this plan of taxing funded sorts of Machinery, Hearth Irons almost always on property?" -"I think sir," replied the other, "there is classical authority for it: quodeunque infundis aces cit, (in fund is assessit.) One pleasantly reminds as, by association, of another. Many years ago, just as a learned judge had closed his charge to a Grand Jury, an ass began to bray within hearing of the Court; when a barrister sarcastically whispered to his next neighbour, "What an extraordinary echo the trade. there is in this Court." This sarcasm reached the ears of the learned Judge, who bore it with his acquatomed good temper, but did not discharge it from his memory. Years after while the person to whom the sarcasm had been attributed, was addressing the Court, by a whimsical coincidence, an ass was heard to eray; when the witty, noble, and well! tempered Judge exclaimed, with affected gravity, 'Gentlemen, this is quite irregular; one at a time, and I will hear you both."

A paris paper, of the 24th of November, contains the following mysterious occurrence, which is said to have taken place in the environs of that city;-"A person exercising public functions, having, been appointed guardian to a young lady, was unfaithful to his trust, and in order to conceal his delinquency, contemplated an union between his son and his ward. The latter constantly refused, on account of assecret attachment to another young man. The guardian was the more mortified at the refusal, as the time approached for surrendering his accounts. He came to Paris with his son, leaving in the country his daught, wir, of the same age as his ward; but suddenly return wed home, when he arrived very late. A single servant knew of the return of his master. The ward was goi bg to bed, when she heard a noise!

in the garden under her windows. Upon listening she heard heavy dead blows, which filled her with alarm, and she went to the chamber of her companion saying that she was coming to sleep with her .--The latter ridiculed her for cowardice, and in order to prove that there was no danger, offered to exchange beds for the night; the offer was accepted; the grave destined for the victim was the digging of this that the ward heard. The assassins entered this that the ward heard. The assassins entered the chamber where they imagined they should find their pray. They were armed not with a dagger but a mask of softened pitch, which they applied to the face of the sleeping girl, and when assured she is the face of the sleeping girl, and when assured she is the face of the sleeping girl, and when assured she is the face of the sleeping girl, and when assured she is the face of the sleeping girl, and when assured she is the face of the sleeping girl, and when assured she is the sleeping girl, and the sleeping girl, and the sleeping girl, and the sleeping girl, and the sleepi was dead, transported her to the garden and buried [from 40 to 50 dollars in specie.] her. The agitation of father and son was extreme on the following morning, when they saw the ward, whom they supposed to be murdered, come into breakfast. The latter being filled with fear, ran to seek her friend, and not finding her went out and informed the magistrates, who ordered the murderers to be apprehended. The affair is now in a cource of investigation."

(Belvideer Apollo.)

JUST ARRIVED

A ND for sale, a set of deep blue CANTON DIN ING CHINA. well assorted, containing onehundred and seventy-two pieces, which will be sold very low. -ALSO- A GENERAL

Assortment of Garden Seeds, Raised by the Shakers; and a supply of best EARLY. YORK and DRUM-HEAD CABBAGE SEED from the Eastward SAMUEL PILKINGTON Lex. Feb. 10, 1825—6-4t.

Garden Seeds.

Of the last year's growth, For Sale by the Subscri-

Patent Polish Shoe Blacking, Suitable for ladies' as well as gentlemen's shoes: is a preservative to the leather, and gives a beautiful polish, at 25 cents currency a single box, and 25 per cent deduction, wholesale. For the convenience of families, it will be sold at 50 cents per pound, without tin boxes. He has likewise for sale,

Castor Oil, Paints, Oil, Putty, Varnish, &c. JOHN STICKNEY, near the Ky. Bank. Lexington, Feb. 8.-6-4.

Town Ordinances.

Board of Trustees; Lexington, February 3, 1824. BE in ordained by the Board of Trustees of the town of Lexington: that each owner of a House in the limits of said Town be directed and required to furnish to the general Fire Committee appointed by the Board on or before the first day of April next as many fire buckets as they are at present required to keep in their houses, and that in future the said owners of houses be exempted from the duty of keeping Fire buck-

2. Be it further ordained that a receipt shall be given by the fire Committee or their agent to those persons who shall furnish buckets in accordance with the fore-going requision which receipt shall be a full release to them from the penalty of not keeping bukets in their

Passed the first reading.

JOSEPH TOWLER Clk b. t.

Board of Trustees; Lexington February 3, 1825, BE it ordained by the Board of Trustees of the town of Lexington: That any wagoner who shall feed his horses in any of the streets of the Town except below the Ware House on water-street, or so place their waggons as to obstruct the passage in any street, or shall back up their waggons to the market house so as to interfere with those persons who rest stalls at either of the market houses, except those persons who attend the markets or unless they have in their waggon some articles designed to be offered in the markets for sale, shall forfeit three dollars.

Passed the first reading.

JOSEPH TOWLER, Clk. b. t.

Negroes For Sale.

THERE will be sold at public Auction on the 28th day of this month being court day in Winchester Clark county Ky about twenty likely and valuable Negroes consisting of men, women and boys, the property of William V/ Taliaferro of Virginia. The terms of the Sale will be for Gold, Silver; or United States or Virginia Bank notes to be paid in hand
REUBEN T. TAYLOR,

Attor in fact for

Win. W. TALIAFERRO. Winchester, Feb. 10, 1825—6-3t.

REMOVAL.

THE Subscriber has removed his SMITH SHOP to the Corner of Upper Street, between the Episcopal and Methodist Churches, where he carries on the WHITE SMITH BUSINESS in its various branches, viz. Scale Beams and Steelyards made and repaird. The Iron work for all hand for sale, Locks repaired &c. &c.

He tenders his thanks to his former friends, and assures them and the public that no pains shall be spared to make them well satisfied both in quality & price of the work done at his shop.

Horse Shoeing and other kinds of Blacksmith Work is done at his Shop at the customary prices.
THOMAS STUDMAN. N. B. Two or three hands will be taken to learn

Feb. 10, 1825 .- 6.-tf.

Book BINDING.

ALEX'R. DRENNAN & SONS. RESPECTFULLY Inform the public that they carry on the above business opposite the lower market house. Any commands they may be favoured with, shall be punctually attended to.

Silks & Cloths Dyed/black, blue, and various colours.

Mens' Cloaks Scoured, and the Colour renewed.
Lexington, Feb. 10, 1825-----6-tf

$25 REWARD.

AN away from the Subscriber living near Nicho-lasville Kentacky, a negro man named NACE.

aged about 23 years. He is a bright mulatto, straigh bair, straight figure, white eyes, thick hps, about fiveet 11 inches. He may probably change his name.

anot known what clothing he had on.

Any person securing said Negro in any jail so that can get him, shall receive the above reward, if take ut of the state. If taken in the state $15 will be paid d all reasonable charges.

Jessamine county Ky. Feb. 10, 1825-6-3t.

LAW NOTICE.

JAMES SHANNON, Late of Wheeling, Va. Will practice Law in the Circuit and County Gourt of Fayette, and the Circuit Courts of Bourbon and Jessamine. All business entrusted to him will re ceive prompt attention. His office is on Short Street. Lex. Dec. 20, 1824.—25-tf.

Literary.

THE undersigned Trustees notify the public that they

ROBERT STEWART, WALLER BULLOCF, JOHN TODD. Fayette County Jan'y. 10 1825-2-tf

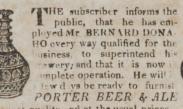

CAUTION.

THE public are hereby notified that any person or persons found taking or laying down any tence or fences or cutting down any timber on any of our planta-tions or woodpastures, shall be dealt with according to Law; or any stock found trespassing on said premises (ovr tenants excepted) shall be taken up as estrays and dealt with as the Law directs.

JOSE H BEARD, Se . H. BEARD, JOS M. BEARD, LAWRENCE DALY, FRANCIS M'LEAR. WILLIAM ROMAN.

ranuary 27 1825-4-3t

LEXINGTON. BREWERY.

of the pest quality and at the usual prices Farmers are requested to bring in what merchantable BARLEY they have now on hand, for which he will give 75 cents per bushel in currency. And he will be ready to purchase any quantity of the same quality of the ensuing crop at that price.

He has a quantity of SEED which he will supply to them at the same price.

WALTER CONNELL. Lex. Jan 27 1825-4-tf.

Botanic Garden.

PROPOSALS will be received for the following Work

To Grub and plough about 7 acres of ground.
To pave about 60 square yards with flat stones.
To lay about 100 Cubic yards of a stone fence.
To put up a Board fence 7 feet high, around part of

To Cart Tan bark and other objects by the day or To procure and plant One Thousand young trees, Shrubs and Vines, from the woods.

Apply to the Superintendant C.S. Rafinesque by let ters left at Capt. Pike's or Thomas Smith's. N. B. The shareholders are notified to pay the instalments due on their shares to the Treasurer of the com-

Feb. 3 1825-5-tf.

5000 GALLONS WHISKEY and

5000 LBS BACON to be delivered Lex ington and Frankfort, apply at

JOHN STEELE'S Hat Store Lexington Jan 21 1825-4-3t*

To the Farmers of Kentucky. HE undersigned, late from the state of New York respectfully informs those engaged in agriculture that he has made an establishment in this town, for the purpose of manufacturing and vending Wood & Swan's Patent Cast Iron Ploughs.

OF THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT. He in offering to the public, the CAST IRON PLOUGHS, is aware of the difficulties to be encountered, in consequence of the general prejudice against Patent Improvements introduced by persons from northern and eastern states: Which is mostly to be attributed to the unskillfulness of those vending and mechanics employed to put them into operation. But, from the experience and knowledge he has had in the business, he flatters himself that PLOUGHS of his manufacture, when fully tested, will remove ev ry prejudice against those made of Cast Iron. As the soil of Kentucky is much better adapted to their use than that of many of the northern states, where few of any other kind are used.

He with the fullest confidence, recommends his CAST IRON PLOUGHS to agriculturalists, knowing as he does from actual observation and experience, tha they possess many superior advantages over those now n general use in this state—among which are Ast Ease of draft, strength and durability

2nd Requiring but few repairs, and those of little

To raise and invert a furrrow with the leas possible power.
4th. To be used with cast or wrought iron shares

Farmers are invited to call and examine for them-selves Ploughs sold, if not approved of after ten days trial, may be returned, when the money will be refund-A constant supply of the following sizes. viz: No.-1, is the one horse or corn Plough.

2, is the two horse 3. is the three horse or more, do. for breaking The subscriber, as agent for the patentees, is legal ly authorised and empowered to grant licences to any who may wish to enter into the business of making and vending the Cast Iron Plough. Terms made known on application, and the Castings irnished on the lowest terms, or patterns supplied to

J. B. WILLIAMS. Lexington, Ky. February 10, 1825-6-3t.

IRON FOUNDRY.

the Mesers Hewitte in the Messrs. Hewitts, in this town, for a erm of time-we are prepaced to fill all orders for

CASTINGS,

Made to pattern, of every description, on the shortest ice and most favorable terms They are also agents for WOOD & SWAN'S Patent

SWAN & STARR Maysville Ky Dec. 30 1825-6-8t.

HEMP WANTED

THE highest price will be given for merchantable Hemp by J. M. Pike, or Lockerby and McOuatt. Lex. Sep. 23, 1524-39-tf

Law North

DANL. Mc'CARTY PAYNE & W FRAZER, AVE united in the practice of the LaW in the Circuit and County Courts of Fayette County. One nine, Woodford, Scott, Owen and Grant. Business con ided to their management will be industriously attendd to. Their office is on Main-street, Lexington. Lexington, September 2, 1824. - 36.-tf

To the Public.

The partnership hertofore existing between the hand. PA subscribers under the name and firm of CONNELL January 13th, 1825—2-tf and McMAHON has been dissolved by mutual con sent, and Walter Connell has become the sole pro prietor of the Brewery heretofore owned by said firm. All persons indebted to said firm are request ted to make payment to said Connell, as he alone i authorized to collect the debts. Tho-e having claims against said firm are notified to call on said Connell in order to have the same adjusted
WALTER CONNELL,

JOHN McMAHON. Oct 3 1814.-44.-tf.

DRAWSIE JANUARY. Grand Masonic Hall Lotter yof YZCURNAZ.

SIXTH CLASS::::::NEW SERIES. HIGHEST PRIZE 2000 DOLLARS SPECIE

The state of the s
	BR	ILLIANT	SCAEME.
1	Priz of	$2,000	is	$2,000
1		1,000	is	1,000
1	66	530	is	530
32	46	100	15	3,200
32	4	50	is	1,600
32	"	25	is	800
64	68	10	is	640
128	65	5	is	646
2975	~	2	is	5,954
-
2067	Duizas amounting to		#10 900

3267 Prizes amounting to $16,302

Every Prize payable in Specie at PIKE'S OFFICE ed the plan, are offered to the public.

DAVID CUTLER,

Whole Tickets $2 50, Specie or its equivalent—Shares in proportion.—After 1st Drawing they advance to $3-after 2d to $350.

J. M. PIKE, Manager, Office Main street near the Court House, Lex. Ky.

DOLLARS.

Have been sold and promptly paid within the last wo years.—-TICKETS in all the EASTERN LOTTERIES constantly for sale at the Eastern prices, and prizes paid at the above FORTUNATE OFFICE

FOR SALE. A Valuable ESTATE In Land and Negroes.

HE tract of land on which I reside in the county of Jessamine, containing eight hundred and fixty-three acres principally inclosed and not surpassed by any in Kentucky, in soil. There are about three hundred and fifty acres of the tract in cultivation, the ballance finely timbered. Its situation admits of a handsome division either into two or three tenements and would be sold in divisions to accommodate purchasers. It is admirably calculated for a stock farm, or any other agricultural pursuit. AN excellent site for a DISTILERY, supplied by a never failing stream upon which one has been conducted for many years. I would also sell 25 likely young negroes, ten of whom are men and boys accustomed to, and capable of performing farming business. Four of the boys have been during the last year engaged in a bagging wiction of the person, who broke into my store-room in the town of Versailles, and the district the thurse of the town of Versailles, and the district the thurse of the town of Versailles, and the district the thurse of Versailles.

Brood Mares & Colts Cattle, sheep & hogs, apparatus capable of making a barrel of Whiskey per. day to-together with the present crop of about 150 acres of corn, with rye, oats, dhay, also the farming utensils. But little is har arded in the assertion that a d hay, also the farming utennore valuable real estate, slaves, and personal property has but seldom been offered for sale in this country. The whole would be exchanged for United States stock or sold at its reasonable value upon terms of mutual advantage. S. H. WOODSOV.

Jessamine county, Sept 9, 1824 37-tf.

Washington Hall.

THOMAS Q. ROBERTS.

CONTINUES to superintend A HOUSE OF ENTER.

TAINMENT in the town of HARRODSBURGH.

Ky. His friends and the public are informed, that he is phrimamently settled, and has no IDEA OF REMOVING eas lately added to the number and conveniences of hi ooms, has a large Pasture Lot, and is well prepared to accommodate any number of persons who may visit this Harrodsburg, June 3, 1824.-24-12m.

LEXINGTON BRASS TRON AND BELL,

CONTINUES to carry on the FOUNDRING BUSI-NESS, in the town of Lexington, second door below he Theatre, Water-street, where all kinds of Brass and Iron Work for Machinery, &c. may be had on the shortest notice. Also, will be kept on hand BELLS for Taverns, Horses, Cows; refine Wagon, Carriage and Gig BOXES; Hatter's, Tailor's and FLAT IRONS; Scale Weights and Wafil Irons; Gun Mountings and Clock Castings; Rivets and Still Cocks, with many other articles too tedious to mention.

May 16, 1822-5-tf

LAW NOTICE.

ROBERT J BRECKINRIDGE

Attorney and Counsellor at Law. LL ATTEND THE FAETTE CIRCUIT COURTS Lexington, April 6,1284.- Y15.-tf.

MOROCCO MANUFACTORY.

FERHE Subscriber respectfully, informs the public that he has commenced the above busines in Lexington on Main Street; and from a long experience in one of the principal cities in Europe, and the United States also; he flatters bimself he will r the other will regularly attend the Courts of Jessa | produce articles in his line equal to any in the Union suitable for Shoe Makers, Hatters, Coach Makers Sadlers and Book Binders which he will sell twenty per cent less than imported skins.

This he hopes will induce the consumers in the Western Country to give a preference to their own

N. B. A constant supply of hatters WOOL on and.

PATRICK GEOHEGAN.

DR. WALTER WARFIELD.

DEAR SIR:

LAS RETURNED TO LEXING TON, and resumed the practice of MEDICINE in connection with his on DR. C. H. WARFIELD. Their Shop is kept at the upper corner of Jordens Row, opposite the Court-house Lexington, Aug. 12th, 1824-tf

New Invention.

A MONG the numerous kinds of useful inventions A that have recently appeared before the public, he subscriber would introduce that of making SPIRITUOUS LIQUORS, on an improved plan, both as it regards fuel and labour. So much so, that I will warrant a saving of one half of the fuel, and one third of the labour which is consumed in the old ways of distilling. Stills made in this way do not burn the spirits, and can be made to any size, to make from one to six barrels of whiskey in a day. Persons feeling disposed to purchase rights for andividuals, or for a county, of the above invention, will please call at the Union Mills, Jessamine county where they can see stills on that plan in successful operation, making upwards of ONE HUNDRED GALLONS a day. Should they wish to purchase rights, Mr. David Crozierat the Union Mills is auhorized to sell them. The following certificates from gentlemen who have erected the stills and tra-

Inventor and patentee,

January 20, 1825 .- 3-tf.

Having purchased the patent right of Mr David Cutter, on a new plan of distillation, and having had a fair trial on the subject, I have no hesitation in Where prizes amounting to above ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND stating it has far exceeded my expectation both an saving fuel and labor: I state farther it exceeds any thing I have ever seen: Given under my hate this 8th day of January 1825: A: YOUNG:

After having a fair trial of your improved plan of distilling, I feel it my duty to state to the public that it far exceeds any thing of the kind I know of as it respects fuel, labour, and convenience. The product of the grain appears to be better, and the spirit purer, than that made in the ordinary mode:

Given under my hand this 17th day of January 1825: Nicholasville: JOSEPH H CHRISMAN. MR DAVID CUTLER: Having fully tested by experiment an improved plan of Distillery by Steam Invented by Mr. D. Cutler, I hesitate not to say, that it is far superior in point of economy both of Labour and Fuel made in this way is equal to any now made in this D. CROZER: UNION MILLS Jessamine County K. Jan 10th 1825:

to any plan I have ever seen, and believe the Spirit

$50 REWARD.

factory. The residue of the negroes are likely women, girls, and children. The purchaser may also obtain with the premises a valuable stock of dred dollars, principally in tickets issued by the subwhich were seventyfive and sixty-two-and-a-half cents notes. Persons holding tickets for the above sums are requesed to bring them in and exchange them for other ticke's, or to receive the commonwealth's notes for them public are desired to observe particularly of whom they receive tickets of the above denomina

DANIEL PRICE Versailles Ky Jan 20 1825-3-tf

FUR SALE ACRES OF FIRST RATE

DANDS One mile and a halffrom Lexington on the Frankort road, nearly one half is timbered land, the bal lance is in a good state of cultivation: a frame house and Orchard, and one of the best springs in Fayette county, and an indisputable title. The above land being the property of William L. McConnell dec'd, and is now offered for sale low for CASH by the heirs of said dec'd. For further particulars enquire of the subscriber in Lexington, and the terms will be made known by him and the land shown, &c.

Lex. April 1, 1824---14--tf.

WHISKEY WHISKEY of a SUPERIOR CALITY for sale by the BARREL

GEORGE ROBINSON.

upper end of the market house. LEXINGTON MAY 10th 1824-20-t.f.

Clock and Watch making THE Subscriber tenders his services in the line of

The strong tenders has services in the sine of this profession, to the citizens of Lexington and its vicinity, and informs them that, in connexion with Mr. THOMAS GRAY, on Main-Street, one door East of Mr. Bain's Hat-Store, near the Post-Office, he will repair very description of gold and silver Watches. Having had six year's experience in one of the first Shops in Philadelphia, he hopes by his assiduous attention to busiess, and the faithful execution of the work entrusted to him, to merit a portion of public patronage.

E. WILLIAMS. May 6, 1824 __ 19 -tf.

FUR SALE A SMALL FARM OF 80 ACRIBS In the immediate neighbourhood

LEXINGTON. HERE are on it, comfortable buildings for two families if necessary—good water—meadows & orchards,—under good fence—and sufficiency of wood and. Terms can be made very favourable.

Apply to CHARLES WILKINS, or Col. JAMES TROTTER.

Lex. Aug. 27th 1824-37-tf.